

Louise Younie

General Practitioner, MBChB, Clinical Senior Lecturer at Barts and The London School of Medicine and Dentistry

Dr Louise Younie is a practicing GP. She is responsible for Quality and Innovation within the Community Based Medical Education team at Barts and The London School of Medicine and Dentistry. Louise is also an Honorary Senior Lecturer at the University of Bristol medical school where she continues to engage medical students in arts-based inquiry opportunities.

Louise has been publishing and presenting both in the national and international arena over the last decade within the field of arts-based inquiry in undergraduate medical education. She embraces the arts within her educational practice to stimulate dialogue, reflection and collaborative learning with medical students. She is an external examiner and reviews articles for high quality medical education and medical humanities journals

Louise is co-director for the creative-reflective medical student website collection www.outofourheads.net and trustee for Arts and Health South West. Her arts-based inquiry educational work with students has been commended at medical school inspection by the GMC (2009) and published in the Medical Schools Council 'Celebrating Achievement: The Exceptional Work of UK Medical Schools and Students' (2013).

<https://www.creativeenquiry.qmul.ac.uk>